Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 13, "either of said side portions" is unclear within the context of the claim since six side sections were previously defined in the claim.

In claim 7, lines 13 and 14, "attached to said side portions thereof respectively" is unclear within the context of the claim insofar as the fastening bands, as disclosed, are not attached to all six previously defined side portions.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-4, 6-10 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Merit '927 in view of either Alexander or Lackomar. Merit '927 discloses a combination including a housing formed by the foldout section 9 which receives an electric facility 3 and a casing 1 which are secured together at the bottom and openably secured together via a zipper (see col. 5, lines 36-44). Each of the housing and casing includes a portion, i.e. an edge or panel which is superposed when the container is closed. With respect to claims 3 and 9, note is made of the strap 4. Merit '927 does not disclose multiple fastening bands securing the container to a headrest, i.e. the straps in Merit '927 are each formed from a single strap. Each of Alexander and Lackomar teaches that it is known to make a securing strap from multiple pieces secured to one another using hook and loop material. It would have been obvious to make each securing strap in Merit '927 using multiple secured pieces as taught by either Alexander or Lackomar to allow easy disengagement adjacent the front part of the seat.

4. Claims 5 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the prior art as applied to claims 1 and 7 above, and further in view of Santos et al. Modified Merit '927 fails to evidence an outer compartment attached to the casing. Santos et al teaches that it is known to make a convertible mounted container with an outer pocket 152 or 154 to facilitate additional storage on the outside of the container. It would have been obvious to make the container of Merit '927 with an outer pocket as taught by Santos et al to facilitate additional storage. The concept of providing extra storage using an outer pocket on a container is well known in this art.

Conclusion

The remaining cited prior art is illustrative of the general state of the art.

In order to reduce pendency and avoid potential delays, Technology Center 3700 is encouraging FAXing of responses in Office Actions to (571)273-8300. This practice may be used for filing papers not requiring a fee. It may also be used for filing papers which require a fee by Applicants who authorize charges to a PTO deposit account.
